

KEEP OUR WATERS PURE

WHEN TRAVELING

Dumping recreational vehicle wastes in storm drains or in a ditch will pollute rivers, stream sand lakes. This pollution can harm our drinking water supplies, make swimming dangerous and kill fish. As you travel, please locate waste disposal stations for proper disposal.

Why dump waste at a sanitary dump site location? By using these disposal stations, the sanitary waste will be treated and disposed of properly, instead of ending up in storm sewers, which often discharge straight to streams, rivers, and lakes.

Dumping Waste into Storm Drains or in Ditches Causes:

- Decreased fish and other aquatic life habitat.
- Increased cases of Swimmer's Itch and other harmful health effects.
- Increased chance of contaminated drinking water supplies.
- Increased alerts on the dangers of eating fish.
- Increased drinking water treatment costs.
- Increased amounts of beach closures due to bacteria.
- Increased foul odors.
- Increased algae blooms causing fish kills.
